

Name _____ Date _____

In English and in Spanish, every sentence MUST have a SUBJECT and a VERB.

A VERB is an action word. To figure out what the VERB in a sentence is, ask yourself,

“What is being done in this sentence?”

The evil mummy chases the man.

Circle the VERB in these six sentences:

The girl talks.

My dad is crazy.

A ferocious dog barks.

A bird sings.

The world turns.

Some boys run fast.

My uncle makes disgusting hamburgers.

A SUBJECT is the person or thing that the sentence is mostly about. It is the person or thing that is doing the action in a sentence. To figure out who the SUBJECT is, ask yourself,

“Who is doing the action in this sentence?”

Underline the SUBJECT in the six sentences that you just read. Remember, the SUBJECT is the person or thing that is doing the action that you already circled.

Here are some Spanish words that can be SUBJECTS. On the line next to each SUBJECT, write what you think it means in English:

la persona _____

el tigre _____

el estudiante _____

el león _____

un accidente _____

Here are some Spanish VERBS. On the line next to each VERB, write what you think it means in English:

ocurre _____

recibe _____

imagina _____

es _____

cuenta _____

Now, try to make some Spanish sentences of your own! Remember, every sentence in Spanish and in English must have a SUBJECT and a VERB. Use the SUBJECTS and VERBS from the boxes on the front of this paper to make your sentences! You can also use other Spanish words from this box:

Here are some other Spanish-English COGNATES (words that look alike and mean the same thing):

la televisión	en un parque	los animales
arrogante	un unicornio mágico	en la jungla
interesante	un desastre	un paquete
impaciente	los números	chocolates
obediente	las radios	una rosa

Try to write five Spanish sentences!

Next to each sentence, write what you think it means in English:

The words
